Fantomas against Scotland Yard - Acerbic cliffhanger-type venture story, with Marais as magnificent felon involved in sports orientated adventures. Cast includes Jean Marais, Louis De Funes, Mylene Demongeot, and Henri Serre. (104 minutes, 1966)

The Defiant - A preoccupying tale of 2 fugitive convicts, one black and one white who are chained together as they escape from the penitentiary in the South. Exceptional performances by Williams and Chaney as individuals they meet during the voyage. Academy Prize for screenplay by Harold Jacob Smith and Nathan E. Cast includes Tony Curtis, Sidney Poitier, Theodore Bikel, Charles McGraw, Carnie Williams, and Lon Chaney, Jr. (97 minutes, 1958)

Dingo - An sudden appearance by jazz trumpeter Billy Cross (Davis) in a young man's rural town empowers him to become a musician himself. Now grown up, he still fantasizes of playing for a living and honoring his lifelong hero. This pleasant but dull paced story is kindled by Miles Davis' dynamic presence and ingratiating behavior. Cast includes Colin Fries, Miles Davis, Helen Buday, Joe Petruzzi, Bernadette Lafont, and Bernard Fresson. (108 minutes, 1991)

Onionhead - A messy movie with Griffith joining the Coast Guard in pre WW2 and becoming a ships chef. The motion picture tries to be a comedy, a romance, and a drama at the same time and succeeds at none. Cast includes Andy Griffith, Felicia Farr, Walter Matthau, Erin O'Brien, Joe Mantell, Ray Danton, James Gregory, Joey Bishop, Roscoe Karns, Claude Akins, Peter Brown, and Tige Andrews. (110 minutes, 1958)

Inferno - American returns to New York from school in Rome to examine the shocking death of his sibling, and finds "sinister moms" wreaking paranormal anarchy on both sides of Atlantic. Surreal, spellbinding shocker by Italian terror maestro Argento doesn't make much sense, but it has a lot of style. Cast includes Leigh McCloskey, Irene Marvel, Sacha Pitoeff, Daria Nicolodi, Eleonora Giorgi, Veronica Lazar, and Alida Valli. (107 minutes, 1984)

Me without You - Timid, tender Williams and extroverted Friel have been best friends as long as they can remember, however as they come of age their relationship is compromised. Plausibly entrancing girl friend film has some strainful minutes, but it does not quite gel. Cast includes Anna Friel, Michelle Williams, Oliver Milburn, Trudie Styler, Marianne Denicourt, Steve John Shepherd, Nicky Henson, Allan Corduner, Kyle MacLachlan, and Anna Popplewell. (107 minutes, 2001)
